

An abstract painting featuring a dense composition of thick, expressive brushstrokes. The primary colors are teal and black, which form the main structure of the work. Interspersed throughout are vibrant splashes of red and orange, along with areas of white and light blue. The overall effect is one of dynamic energy and complex texture. The painting is set against a background of lighter, more diffused colors, possibly from the paper or a secondary layer of paint.

ART

2019

DUMONT

