Costus guanaiensis Rusby var. tarmicus (Loesener) Maas

Native to “Northwestern South America and Mexico (?); in rain forests, often in clearings, riverbank forests, usually at middle elevation, from 300-1500 m.”
Maas (1972) Fl. Neotrop. 8: 56.

MORE
Above: Lyon ____ (never accessioned?), from Elsie Horikawa, her source on Oahu but she can’t remember where, possibly Waimea.