CONGRATULATIONS

You're graduating!

Hello!

First and foremost, I would like to congratulate you on all that you've accomplished in these past few years! After late-night cramming for finals, excelling in extracurriculars, and finding your passion(s), all while meeting amazing people along the way, it's time to take your portraits! Time has flown by, and these pictures will help capture the memories you've made throughout the past years that shaped your life.

For all my clients, I seek to provide a full experience, from initial consultation, to shoot prep, portrait session, and finally prints. While keeping the session fun and lighthearted, I believe nothing can replace the raw joy and emotion shown in images to commemorate your time at USC. Thank you for considering me as your photographer; let's make magic together!

To make this as stress-free as possible, keep reading to find out more about where to get your sash and gown, the best times to book, and potential discounts!

Don't Procrastinate!

Despite being masters of this practice, PLEASE do NOT procrastinate when it comes to getting your sash, gown, and cap! Receiving them early sets the stage for a stress-free shoot, and no one wants to wait in line for their turn to shoot, nor wait for families to get out of the background during the hectic month of April and May! To ensure a seamless graduation session, make sure to borrow from a friend, or order them from the official links below before February!

HOW TO BOOK:

I can shoot on weekdays and weekends. Please decide on the top three dates you are available within a 2-hour time block.

The earlier you book, the better! I am only taking 8 sessions this year and cannot guarantee any spots last minute!

I will LOVE you if you book a time between January 1st to April 6th! So much that I will take *$50 off your session if you do. ;) If you have any questions, feel free to ask me through email!

To book, please email me at audey.w.shen@gmail.com, detailing the session you want! After signing the contract and paying the small deposit, you're all set!

After booking with me, I will send another guide detailing tips on choosing your outfit, locations, and props!
