NAROFSKY ARCHITECTURE

For more than 30 years, Narofsky Architecture has been sharing their passion for design, innovative thinking, and hands-on experience with their clients and peers, as well as the next generation of designers. The firm offers their services to residential clients for new homes, renovations, apartments, townhouses and multi-family complexes. They also service commercial and medical clients for corporate/executive offices and hospitality establishments.

Their works explore formal and spatial relationships with open, intuitive analysis and an inventive response to program, site, context, craft, and sustainable resources.

Founding principal, Stuart Narofsky FAIA, is a past chair of the Custom Residential Architects Network (CRAN) and a former chapter president of the American Institute of Architects. The firm as well as Stuart have received numerous awards including the AIA LI Lifetime Achievement award. He has also won multiple high-profile competitions and been featured in numerous publications nationally and internationally.

Principal, Jennifer Rusch, manages the firm while overseeing interiors. She is an architect that has devoted her talents toward the convergence of architecture and interiors and has more than 25 years of experience in the hospitality and retail industry as well as extensive experience with custom home design.

Their studio is dedicated to fulfilling the needs of their clients while pursuing innovative, environmentally-conscious designs that engage each unique site intimately and mindfully.
