BOW TIES aren't only for the men. Don a crisp white shirt under this hot gold bow tie to give a contemporary twist to Christmas-party dressing. Vintage sterling silver box-link chain necklace with vintage pressed-metal ornate bow pendant. $280 from double dutch.

Victoria Mason's CROCHETED NECKLACE is as good as your granny would make this Christmas. "Granny Square" necklace (above) in sterling silver and enamel. $220 from Victoria Mason.

GET YOUR MR BIG ON and make him propose with this oh-so-hot 18-carat white gold and black diamond ring, $6500 (below), or the ridiculously spectacular 18-carat white gold and yellow diamond ring (8.07-carat) $230,000 from Jan Logan.

'TIS THE SEASON TO ADORN HER

The Three Kings came bearing gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Now I don't have a practical use for the two latter gifts, but I can definitely put gold to good use. Combine white and yellow gold with bright cocktail colours of purple, emerald, black and red to shine this Christmas. And for those looking for the most perfect gift, you can't go past a necklace – no worrying about if she has her ears pierced, or no resizing if the ring doesn't fit.

For those who love a gamble, there are more engagements during the festive season than any other time of year, so why not kill two presents with one stone and propose? \
