

LAIR EAST LABS
来易加速器

NYC's Cross-Broder Accelerator, Lair East Labs, announces the participants for its Winter 2018 Program in New York City on January 15, 2018.

Lair East Labs Accelerator today announced that it has selected three startups for its Winter 2018 class, which begins today. This particular batch of companies are all innovating in different sectors with New York City as its location target to grow and expand.

Sector: Hardware | VR/AR

Gatsby is a hardware company powering computers for next generation technology.

Gatsby's Alpha device is a lightning-fast super booster for your laptop or pc tablet. For Virtual Reality enthusiasts, desktop gamers, and creative professionals who need a boost to their Thunderbolt 3 laptop, the Gatsby Alpha will provide a drastic increase in performance.

Our eGPU supports both Windows and Mac, and is an extremely portable, plug-and-play solution, no research or expertise required. Never buy a bulky desktop tower pc again.

Sector:
Mobile Social App

Projections.io lets you instantly capture any specific moment from your favorite streaming content.

With one click through our Chrome Extension or iOS app, the last 20 second clip automatically appears in the extension or our mobile app for you to edit and share. We digitizes the water cooler conversations - "Did you see x last night?"

Download our extension at bit.ly/projectionsio and iOS app at <http://apple.co/2A45dR6>

Sector:

B2B/Enterprise
Logistics/Supply Chain
Logistics Management

Web2ship is an online shipping platform that connects courier and postal companies to shippers. It compares and ships with all courier services with low shipping rates and integration of one single API.

Web2ship connects many couriers and postal companies in different countries and allows the user to track, check shipping rates, and make bookings for the service within city, countries or even cross-border.