

KNOWING OUR CLIENTS, KNOWING OURSELVES

April 16, 2019: 8:30 am to 4:30 pm

MDoH, Prevention & Health Promotion Administration, 500 N Calvert Street, Baltimore, MD
2nd Floor Conference Room

HOW DO OUR OWN EXPERIENCES – OUR CLASS, GENDER, RACE, ETHNICITY, SEXUAL ORIENTATION, GENDER EXPRESSION, AND ABILITIES INFORM OUR SENSE OF SELF AND OUR INTERACTIONS WITH CLIENTS? HOW HAVE OUR LIFE EXPERIENCES OF PRIVILEGE AND DISADVANTAGE IMPACTED OUR EXPECTATIONS OF OTHERS? ARE OUR CLIENTS TRULY “HARD TO REACH” OR “DIFFICULT”? WHAT DO THE LABELS WE PUT ON SPECIFIC CLIENTS TELL US ABOUT OURSELVES? THIS WORKSHOP CREATES A SAFE ENVIRONMENT IN WHICH TO EXPLORE THESE TOPICS.

SESSION OBJECTIVES:

- Identify biases that will impact interactions with clients
- Develop strategies for suspending judgement and managing biases
 - Identify and utilize client assets in client services

Fee: $40.00 (make check payable to the University of Maryland)
To request 6.0 CEUs check here: _____ (Add $25.00)

Name/Degree: _____

E-Mail (Required): _____ Phone: _____

Mailing Address: _____

City: _____ State/Zip: _____

Employer: _____

Title: _____ Fax: _____

Fax Registration Form to: 410-328-9106

Mail payment to: University of MD, 22 S Greene Street, Box 175, Baltimore, MD 21201

Contact Nancy Davis 410-328-1215 ndavis@medicine.umaryland.edu

Sponsored By:

Maryland Department of Health: Infectious Disease Prevention & Health Services Bureau, University of Maryland, Institute of Human Virology, AIDS Education & Training Center