Headlines about concussions in football have the game under attack. But the truth is - the game has never been safer. Rules changes, better equipment and better trained coaches make youth football as safe as it can be.

Football teaches young people life lessons. It helps build strong schools and communities. It helps young people build lifetime friendships, and helps today’s players become tomorrow’s community leaders.

Football is a great game – a safe game – and our coaches want to teach it to your kids.
