

Newsletter - June 2015

Meet Betty. She was nearly born in a horse and buggy.

Greetings!

Bring on summer!

I've had a great time working with seniors in Oak Park, Morton Grove and Glenview this past month, encouraging them to reflect and write about their lives. Their stories are the stuff of movies: escaping arranged marriages, stealing cigarettes to barter for candy, and narrowly escaping birth in a horse-drawn carriage in the middle of Iowa. Wouldn't you want to read these stories?

Along with warmer temps, summer brings plenty of opportunities to be with our loved ones: BBQs, family reunions, summer trips, and weddings. What a perfect time to talk... and listen.

Speaking of weddings, did you know Memoir for Me can craft a wedding or engagement album that delivers more than just pretty pictures? How about the story behind that great couple? See below for a sample.

Featured Story: Becca & Rob

Rebecca and Robert found love like many others these days.

"We met on the web, you know, the old-fashioned way," said Rob.

"But right away, there was a feeling like we'd known each other forever," said Becca.

What may have started off as a modern Match connection has ended up a relationship for the ages. Rob and Becca, along with 10 year-old Dylan, make up Team DRR: a powerhouse committed to communication and understanding.

Thanks for reading! Remember, Father's Day is around the corner, June 21st. Memoir for Me can create a gift he will never forget.
