The Sarah Carlisle Towery - Alabama Art Colony is committed to producing an enjoyable environment to educate, nurture and inspire artists through workshops. We will enhance the quality of life for the greater community by educating and providing opportunities to experience, appreciate and support the arts. We will contribute to the cultural enrichment of the city and its local communities through our on-going collection and exhibition of art and through partnerships with diverse community organizations that celebrate life and art.

MAKE IT SIMPLE

Palette Knife - Minimalist Landscape Workshop

with Alisa Koch

Sponsored by

WINSOR & NEWTON

ARCHES

With so much information in the landscape...let's make it simple.

Create a minimalist landscape with just a few strokes of color with artist Alisa Koch. You will learn how to see and understand the landscape in terms of shape and color, mix oil colors from a limited palette and achieve an immense variety of language from the basic colors, as well as apply and manipulate paint with a palette knife to blend and shape the landscape form. All levels welcome, never worked in oils - no problem.

2018 Alabama Art Colony Instructors

October 5 - 10, 2018

Children's Harbor, Lake Martin

Barbara Davis has taught two very successful UNO classes for the Colony and we are UNO that she has agreed to instruct at our 2018 Colony. Barbara finds that the common thread for all her paintings is light and its effect on the subject. It is her goal to create, not photographic realism, but an impression of light. Her paintings are sought after and in many notable collections throughout Alabama and other states.

Pat Weaver is an internationally recognized watercolor artist and is known for her spontaneous and vibrant work. Pat has an impressionistic approach to painting and a simplified approach to drawing. Students will explore color with a limited palette of no more than 5 colors in any one painting. Her class will be limited in size and we anticipate it filling quickly.

Stan Kurth teaches numerous workshops and shares his process around the nation and with many artist communities and organizations. We are fortunate to have Stan teaching "Freedom in Watermedia" in 2018. Students will use a variety of techniques to implement color, line, shape and value. "The goal is a painting that is aesthetically pleasing, unique and reflective of the artists' mind."

There are a few spots left... it's not too late.. sign up today!
